

Shipping Regulations to South Sudan

The sanctions which were imposed on South Sudan by the U.S. Government were recently removed.

You can now export from the United States to South Sudan items like Household Goods, Personal Effects, Books, Computers and Humanitarian Assistance without government authorization provided these items do not involve any interest of the Government of Sudan.

But if you plan to export to Southern Sudan items like Agricultural Commodities, Medicine and Medical Devices, you still need to get the Authorization from the U.S. Government
